WEEKLY REPUBLICAN—1897.
DAILY PUBLIC LEADER—1901.

MAYSVILLE, KY., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1901.

PRICE—ONE CENT.

Mrs. R. S. Porter goes to Fleming this afternoon to remain several days.

Mrs. James Hains visited Mrs. J. B. Steers of the county a few days ago.

Mr. Frank Griffin, Traveling Freight Agent of the L. and N., was in this city yesterday.

The Rev. T. B. Stratton of Sedden's Chapel is attending the M. E. Conference at Ashland.

Miss Mabelle Ball of Millersburg and Mr. John Ball of Sardis visited Mr. and Mrs. P. C. McColm at Manchester this week.

Mr. John F. P. Tolle visited his sisters, Mrs. Wiley Logan, Mrs. Granville Edgington and Mrs. John Staboleton this week at Manchester.

Mrs. Arthur Haney and son, Willie, of Clifton have returned home after spending three weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hillen of Lexington.

Mr. J. C. Rains has returned from Cincinnati, where he accompanied his wife and children, who are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Orr, at North Fairmount.

SP All notices for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Strode of Shannon are happy. It's a boy.

Dr. C. V. Gonyea, formerly of Manchester, is now in Rome, Italy.

When the proper time arrives, I expect to be an applicant for the Postmaster's office of Maysville, and will be deeply grateful for the support of my fellow-citizens, promising them faithful service.

At a conference between General Manager Josephine, of the Kentucky and Indiana Bridge and Railroad Company, and the striking switchmen in Louisville the employees were refused an increase in wages.

Homey Fite, living near the old Grant tannery at Georgetown, O., shot and beat his wife until she would die, and then shot himself to death. Mrs. Fite said he shot and beat her after a quarrel. He then went to the mill where he was employed and shot himself dead.

"The Palmer Billiard Table Works" of Chicago was "turned down" a week or so ago by THE LEADER, and now comes THE PUBLISHER'S Guide and says publishers who are not particular as to what class of advertising they carry—well, it isn't what it ought to be.

A kind lady—a widow and poor, of course—writes from a distant state to request THE LEADER to let her know all about the other heirs to the Drake estate, she being one of them. Certainly; that's just what we're here for, with a full supply of stationery and stamps, and nothing else to do.

MILLINERY OPENING.
Opening day at Mrs. M. Archdeacon's Friday and Saturday, September 27th and 28th. Corner Third and Market.

THAT'S THE LEADER.
The Rev. T. B. Stratton says—
"A newspaper whose columns are so full with the advertisements of such low class as the other heirs to the Drake estate, she being one of them. Certainly; that's just what we're here for, with a full supply of stationery and stamps, and nothing else to do."

THE REV. D. P. HOLT TRIUMPHS OVER HIS ENEMIES AT DAYTON.

The many warm friends in this city of the Rev. D. P. Holt will be glad to know that a thorough investigation has acquitted him of the charges brought by certain members of his congregation at Dayton.

The Court of Inquiry appointed by the Conference at Ashland, and which probed the charges to the bottom, was composed of F. C. Pillsbury, Chairman, Thomas Hanford, D. F. Kerr, J. S. Taylor and T. B. Stratton, the latter of this city.

The witnesses were Hrs. Cyrus Kiddle, H. R. Wilburn, R. I. Watkins, A. Boring, J. W. Zimmerman, E. L. Shepard, Prof. F. S. Alley and N. H. Grey.

I know not what needs we should cherish, for if they may all be set by, I only know that nothing is taken away. I know not what needs we should cherish, for if they may all be set by, I only know that nothing is taken away.

The towboat W. W. O'Neil, which was taking thirty coalboats from Baton Rouge to New Orleans, stuck her stern on a bar between the two points and left three barges there.

The Avian has gone to Parkersburg to be lengthened. The boat's hull will be cut in two, just forward of her smokestacks, and thirty-three feet will be added, from the smokestacks forward to the bow of the boat. This will give the steamer a much larger carrying capacity. As soon as the addition is made the steamer will proceed to the Tennessee, where the vessel will again enter the Paducah and Chattanooga trade.

The Maraden Cellulose Company and the Louisville and Evansville Packet Company were sued at Owensboro Wednesday for $20,000 by John A. Barnes for the drowning of his daughter Clara on the night of July 12. Miss Barnes was drowned in attempting to get off the Fawn, one of the Maraden boats, as it was returning from an excursion. It is charged that the Tarascon struck the barge upon which she was attempting to alight.

McKINLEY'S WILL.

Judge Wm. R. Day and Secretary Cortelyou Selected as Administrators by the Widow.

THE DOCUMENT FILED FOR PROBATE.

All the Real Estate and Income Bequeathed to His Wife During Her Natural Life.

Whatever Remains After the Widow's Death Goes to His Brother and Sisters, Share and Share Alike.

Canton, O., Sept. 28.—Secretary Cortelyou came here to assist Mrs. McKinley in disposing of matters connected with the late president's estate. The trying task of settling Mr. McKinley's will was undertaken by the faithful secretary, Mrs. McKinley made a heroic effort to bear up, and successfully did so, although the ordeal was difficult for her. All legal formalities necessary for her to subscribe to were disposed of. Judge Day and Secretary Cortelyou then went to the office of the probate judge and offered the will of President McKinley for probate. They carried with them the following: "I, Ida S. McKinley, widow of William McKinley, deceased, hereby declines the administration of his estate, and recommends the appointment of William R. Day and George B. Cortelyou as administrators with the will annexed."

This recommendation bears the date of September 27, 1901.

Following is the text of President McKinley's will:

"Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C.—I, William McKinley, do hereby make my last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills.

"To my beloved wife, Ida S. McKinley, I bequeath my real and personal estate wherever situated, and the income from any personal property of which I may be possessed at death, during her natural life.

My Sister Helen.

"I make the following charge upon all my property, both real and personal: To pay my mother, during her life $1,000 a year, out of my said sum to be paid to my sister Helen McKinley. If the income from my property be insufficient to keep my wife in every respect, then I direct that such of my property as I sold so as to make a sum adequate for both purposes. Whatever property remains at the death of my wife I give to my brother and sisters, share and share alike. My chief concern is that my wife should be comfortable and happy.

"Witness my hand and seal, this 22d day of October, 1901, to my last will and testament, signed at Washington, District of Columbia, and our signatures hereto in his presence.

"CHAS. R. CORTLEYOU."

Value of the Estate.

It is given out on authority that the McKinley estate will total $225,000 to $250,000, including life insurance of $75,000. Aside from the $67,000 mentioned, the estate consists of real estate here and contiguous to Canton, and of deposits in Washington banks.

Mourning morning at 9 o'clock has been fixed by the probate court for a hearing prior to probating the will. Then, it is expected, the probate court and Judge Day will be finally appointed administrators of the estate with will annexed, and will give bond.

Secretary Cortelyou made the necessary affidavit as to the genuineness of the signature of the president and his co-administrator, Mr. Leffler read the will Saturday, and made affidavit as to his signature, and to having seen the president attach his name to the document. The will is in the president's own handwriting, and is an executive mansion letter paper.

KIRKLAND B. ARMOUR.

The President of the Armour Interests in Kansas City Dies of Bright's Disease.

Kansas City, Sept. 28.—Kirkland B. Armour died at his residence here. Mr. Armour suffered with Bright's disease and a weak heart, and had been sinking gradually for some time. He had been ill for two years, and had vainly sought improvement at various health resorts in the east and west.

Kirkland B. Armour was born at Stockbridge, N. Y., in 1854. He was the son of Andrew Watson Armour, who was a member of Congress.

Mr. Armour was identified with the Armour interests in Kansas City, and entered the packing house firm in 1872. After the death of his father he succeeded to the business.
